:15 - :25: F1000Research BioC channel (launch article) (Vicky Hellon, F1000Research)

- Commenced in 2015, 63 articles, 29 posters and 21 slide decks. 47 days median time to pass peer review, 820 citations, > 550K total views
- Discussion re: new initiatives to help members of the the Bioconductor community publish their work
- Consider supporting the publication of training materials in other languages. However, the title and the abstract should be in English ('Translating Bioconductor materials into different languages' article).

:25 - :45: Bioconductor TAB & BioC Events update

Previously approved TAB minutes (July meeting)

Summary from most recent TAB meeting

- Discussed topics of interest for the community
- Discussed the code of conduct.
- Improving package building methods.

BioC2020 (July 27-31) debrief

- Issues arising from the virtual platform i.e. communication, numbers of attendees accommodated. Consider other platforms for future virtual conferences.

BioC Asia 2020 (October 15-18 (4 half days), virtual format). Organising committee meeting held earlier today.

BioC Europe 2020 (December 9-11, virtual format). Will invite organiser to report on progress at next meeting

Bio"Pack"athon (September 9, October 14, November 11, December - schedule changed from "every other Friday" to "the 2nd Wednesday" of every month (the day before the monthly CAB meeting, in most cases]). Summary:

- Small number of participants currently (19 attendees).
- The training material is in Japanese.
- Distributing the material on video streaming channel.
- Aim to host BioC Asia 2021.

:45 - :55 Funding CAB activities

- CZI proposal did not go ahead this round (insufficient time allowed to submit through grant admin offices - will know better for next time). Can aim to submit one in the next round (Feb 2021). Improve and simplify the document for next round.
- BioC Foundation of North America may be able to fund some activities in the meantime

- Apply for other opportunities.

:55 - :60 Other business

- Review the diversity statements and code of conduct.
